'Forty Shades of Grey'
Nicky Larkin

The aim of this project was to create an experimental, feature-length, non-narrative film piece, shot on location in Israel and Palestine. Some very black and white ideas and opinions exist, particularly in Europe, when people think of this notorious hot-spot. This project aims to explore the forty shades of grey and the many stories that exist in between the definite black and white opinions that we are presented with daily in our western news media.

Directed by Nicky Larkin
Produced by Gary Hoctor
Funded by The Irish Arts Council Film Project Award 2010

'Tracking Rotterdam on Tour'
Michal Osowski & Karel Doing

An interactive performance installation in which fine arts, sound, video projection and the physical movement of the artist are integrated. Karel Doing will perform the act of live filming and the motion of his camera will be integrated with the sound. The results will be projected on three big screens all around, creating a hypnotic audio-visual environment in which the viewer is immersed.

Tracking Rotterdam is produced by ICU art projects foundation and supported by DKC Rotterdam and VSBfonds

The program will conclude in a short performance:
'sleeping on a chipboard floor'
